

Schick California Privacy Rights Notice

If you are a California resident, the following provisions apply to our processing of information that identifies, relates to, describes, is capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer or household (“California Personal Information”). For such residents, the provisions of this California Privacy Rights Notice prevail over any conflicting provisions of the Schick Privacy Policy.

California Personal Information We Collect

We may have collected the following categories of California Personal Information within the last 12 months about you.

- (A) Identifiers such as a real name, alias, postal address, online identifier, Internet Protocol address, email address, or other similar identifiers.
- (B) Personal information that identifies, relates to, describes, or is capable of being associated with, a particular individual, including, but not limited to their name, address, credit card number, debit card number, or any other financial information provided.
- (C) Characteristics of protected classifications under California or federal law (such as age.)
- (D) Commercial information, including records of products or services purchased, obtained, or considered, or other purchasing or consuming histories or tendencies.
- (E) Internet or other electronic network activity information, including, but not limited to, browsing history, search history, and information regarding a consumer’s interaction with an Internet website, application or advertisement.
- (F) Inferences drawn from any of the information identified in this subdivision to create a profile about you reflecting your preferences, characteristics, psychological trends, predispositions, behavior, attitudes, intelligence, abilities, and aptitudes.
- (G) Geolocation data.

Within the last 12 months we have not shared California Personal Information identified in the above categories (A)-(G) in a manner that could be considered a “sale” under the California Consumer Privacy Act.

Within the last 12 months, we have disclosed California Personal Information identified in the above categories (A)-(G) for our business purposes. To learn more about the categories of third parties with whom we share such information, please see the “Third parties and other Edgewell Companies” section of the privacy policy.

For each of these categories, we obtain California Personal Information from a variety of sources. These sources include: yourself, with respect to both online interactions you may have with us or our service providers; other entities with whom you transact business; others with whom you maintain relationships who may deal with us on your behalf; the devices you use to access our websites, mobile applications, and online services; credit bureaus; identify verification and fraud prevention services; marketing and analytics providers; public databases; social media platforms; and others consistent with this Notice. For more information, please see the “How Information is Collected” section of the Privacy Policy.

We do not disclose personal information of individuals we know to be under the age of 16 to business or third parties for monetary or other valuable consideration which could be considered a “sale” under California law, without affirmative authorization.

Use of California Personal Information

For each of the above categories, we use the California Personal Information we collect for the business purposes disclosed within our Privacy Notice and detailed in the section entitled “Why Information is Collected”.

We may also use the information we collect for our own or our service providers’ other operational purposes, purposes for which we provide you additional notice, or for purposes compatible with the context in which the California Personal Information was collected.

Your California Rights

If you are a California resident, you have certain rights related to your California Personal Information. Including:

- The right to request that we disclose to you:
  - specific species of personal information we have collected;
  - categories of California Personal Information we have collected about you;
  - categories of sources from which the California Personal Information is collected;
  - our business or commercial purpose for collecting or selling California Personal Information; and
  - categories of third parties with whom we share California Personal Information.
- The right to request that we delete California Personal Information about you which we have collected from you.
- To the extent that we disclose California Personal Information for a business purpose, you may request that we disclose to you the categories of California Personal Information we have collected about you as well as the categories of California Personal Information about you that we disclosed for a business purpose.

You may exercise these rights by:

- By completing our rights request form available here Data Subject Request Form; or
- Calling us toll-free at 1-(844)-383-0442.

As required under applicable law, please note that we may take steps to verify your identity before granting you access to information or acting on your request to exercise your rights. We may require you to provide additional personal information as necessary to verify your identity in response to exercising requests of the above type. We may limit our response to your exercise of the above rights as permitted under applicable law.

Subject to applicable law, we may not discriminate against you because of your exercise of any of the above rights, or any other rights under the California Consumer Privacy Act, including by:

- Denying you goods or services;
- Charging different prices or rates for goods or services, including through the use of discounts or other benefits or imposing penalties;
- Providing you a different level or quality of goods or services; or
- Suggesting that you will receive a different price or rate for goods or services or a different level or quality of goods or services.

Under California law, you may designate an authorized agent to make a request on your behalf. You may make such a designation by providing the agent with written permission to act on your behalf. As permitted by law, we may require you to verify your own identity in response to a request even if you choose to use an agent. We may deny a request by an agent if they fail to submit proof that they act on your behalf.
